

A-76 study -- What is it?

Many employees are probably feeling confused and frustrated about what is happening and whether or not they will be affected in the Directorate of Information Management and the Adjutant General A-76 studies.

The concept of "competitive sourcing" of certain government activities has been around for a long time. In the 1950s the Eisenhower administration established the policy that government should be cost-effective and should not compete with its citizens.

In 1976 the Office of Management and Budget published circular A-76, Performance of Commercial Activities, which outlines the procedures that must be followed in determining the most appropriate method of providing a particular activity/service. The intent was to stimulate cost comparison studies to assure competitive government services whether they be contracted, retained in house, or obtained through an intragovernmental support agreement.

In 1998 the Federal Activities Inventory Reform Act was passed requiring agencies to inventory their functions and distinguish inherently governmental functions (i.e., patient care or passing legislation) from commercial activities. Those activities determined to be commercial must undergo a cost comparison study according to this act. Headquarters, Department of the Army had to announce to Congress their plan to study these functions.

There are several stages involved in the cost comparison process. The objective of the cost process is to ensure, through competition, that the Army is getting their most productivity for the dollars invested. The commander has overall responsibility for each A-76 study and its completion in accordance with the timeline established by higher headquarters.

One of the most important stages of the cost comparison study is determining the products or services that the government delivers. This is called a Performance Work Statement which includes performance requirements, facilities and equipment, tasks performed, and legal and regulatory requirements. The installation commander must have the best bid for the performance of the work that has been described in the PWS. This is called the Most Efficient Organization and includes the organizational structure, positions, staffing levels, and an explanation of the methods for performing the work. It must reflect the most efficient organization so the in-house method of performance will be more cost efficient than the option to contract.

The cost comparison will eventually be between the bid of the best competitor in comparison to the bid of the in-house MEO. The cost comparison includes a conversion factor of 10 percent of MEO personnel costs up to $10 million. The competitor must under-bid the in-house organization after the conversion cost is added in order to receive the initial award of the work.

At this point we are at the beginning stages of the A-76 studies and do not know how these local functional areas will be affected. As positions become vacant, management must consider whether it would be a surplus job to a most efficient structure which can aid movement to the MEO. Based on local circumstances, management will decide

Community involvement key to safety in military family housing areas

Hello all,

By now most all of you have heard the shocking news of the body of Richelle Cherry, the Seaside woman who disappeared nearly three months ago, being discovered in a shallow grave in an abandoned housing area on the Presidio of Monterey Annex.

Although this a sad discovery, there is no cause for alarm. All facts indicate that this murder was not a random act. We know that most murders take place between people who know each other. The security of our military communities was not comprised. In fact, there is no indication that the murder happened on the former Fort Ord. The POM Police Department provides our housing areas with more officers per resident than any other community in the Monterey area. Our excellent police coverage combined with our community involvement in the forms of neighborhood watch, crime stoppers, and the mayoral program has resulted in decreasing crime rates.

Moreover, our housing areas have the lowest crime statistics in Monterey County. We also know that there are people in our 'free and open society' who will choose to do evil acts. It is incumbent upon all of us to stop the evil and keep our community safe and secure. We are our own best protection. You can take personal action for your own security and that of your neighbors. The community members are the best 'eyes and ears'

Army Col. Peter Dausen
Garrison Commander

for the police department. We need all of you to participate in our community crime watch program. Get involved in the community and report any suspicious activity to the POM Police Department. To report suspicious activity, call 24 CRIME (242-7463).

We DO have safe neighborhoods. You can help make them even safer by being involved, watching out for your neighbors, and by reporting suspicious activity.

Defense Secretary addresses anthrax vaccination

By Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen

In 1997, I accepted the recommendation of the Joint Chiefs to require vaccination of all U.S. military personnel against anthrax, a deadly biological agent which is almost always lethal to unprotected, untreated victims. For the past two years, the department has been vaccinating those of you deploying to Southwest Asia and Korea, the two most likely regions where anthrax could be used against you.

To date, we have provided more than 1.8 million safe and reliable vaccinations using a vaccine, certified by the Food and Drug Administration, with a 30-year history of safe and effective use, every dose meeting the highest quality and safety standards and backed by additional testing. And I would point out that the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, Gen. Henry Shelton, and I were among the very first to receive this vaccine.

When we began this program, we had a stockpile of vaccine. The one facility that produced the vaccine has since been taken over and replaced by a new company which has yet to receive Food and Drug Administration approval to begin operations at a new facility. During this time, we have been conducting vaccinations from our original stockpile. Unfortunately, we're beginning to run low on tested and certified doses from that stockpile, forcing us to temporarily slow our vaccination efforts.

I want to explain how this may affect you. We will make every effort to continue vaccinating those of you who are serving or about to serve in high-threat areas. Of course, the rest of our force health protection package, such as detectors in the field and full supplies of antibiotics, are going to remain in place while we await more vaccine. And as soon as a sufficient and safe supply of vaccine is available, we will expand the program, ultimately vaccinating all members of the active and reserve force.

We deeply appreciate the tremendous efforts of those who have made the anthrax vaccine program a success to date, especially those of you already receiving vaccinations. We put safety first when we started this program two years ago. I'm putting safety first again today. We will put safety first when we expand the program after we have assured ourselves a supply from a new FDA-certified facility. Our highest priority has always been and always will remain to protect those of you who are protecting America.

Marriage workshop scheduled for Saturday

"Married and Friends ... Always," a PREP couples workshop, will be held Saturday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., at the General Stilwell Community Center. This seminar is designed to teach effective communication skills to strengthen and enhance marriages. Couples will learn ways to keep "little disagreements" from becoming "big arguments" and end the day with ideas for keeping romance and fun in their marriages.

This free seminar is open to active duty military, Department of Defense civilians and their spouses or fiancées.

Free child care is provided, and refreshments will be served in the morning and afternoon.

For more information, or to register call Army Community Service at 242-7660 or 242-7653, or the Navy Family Service Center at 656-3488.

Foreign film series continues Sunday

The international film series at the Presidio of Monterey continues Sunday, 7 p.m. with the showing of "The Story of Qiu Ju" (Qiu Ju Da Guansi)," a film by Zhang Yimou, starring Gong Li. Admission is free.

This is a 1992 color film in Chinese-Mandarin with English subtitles. The story concerns Qiu Ju, the wife of a chili farmer who seeks justice, respect, and an apology after her husband is kicked in a dispute with the village chief. She runs through the gauntlet of the labyrinthine Chinese bureaucracy, with ironic and unexpected results. The running time is 100 minutes.

The Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center will sponsor the monthly series at the Presidio of Monterey Theater, Building 208, Stilwell Road and 15th Infantry Street.

This free-admission series will consist of English-subtitled films in every language taught at DLIFLC, subject to availability. Films selected will be of high cultural, historic, and artistic significance. The screenings are open to all DLIFLC, Monterey Institute of International Studies, local college and high school language and film students, faculty, their families and guests.

For more information, call the Air Force Element Training Directorate at 242-6768.

Youth soccer registration deadline Wednesday

Registrations are still being accepted for the 2000 youth soccer season at the Porter Youth Center. This program is designed for children ages 5-14.

Porter Youth Center Youth Soccer is open to dependents of all branches of the military regardless of where they live. This program is designed to provide a high quality recreation experience to boys and girls of all ability levels. The program stresses learning the fundamentals of the game and having fun.

For more information on youth soccer or any of the other sports offered through the Porter Youth Center, call Andy Lipsig at 242-7823, or visit the center located on the corner of Gen. Jim Moore Boulevard and Normandy Avenue on the Presidio of Monterey Annex.

Anger control workshop scheduled for Thursday

Absentee voting deadlines sooner than you think

By Staff Sgt. Kathleen T. Rhem, USA
American Forces Press Service

Nov. 7, Election Day, is less than five months away. That may seem like a long time, but voting officials recommend absentee voters request ballots 45 days in advance, even further in advance if they haven't yet registered to vote in their home district. Hmm...that window of opportunity is starting to narrow. Officials with the Federal Voting Assistance Program have put a tremendous amount of information about absentee voting on the Internet at <http://www.fvap.ncr.gov>.

Some specific websites military voters may find helpful are below:

The website <http://www.fvap.ncr.gov/publications/howtoinfo.html> is an electronic version of the useful pamphlet "How To Do It — Vote Absentee." The pamphlet answers such questions as: Can I vote absentee? How do I apply for an absentee ballot? When is the best time to apply? The pamphlet is also available through unit and installation voting assistance offices.

The online version of the Federal Post Card Application at <http://www.fvap.ncr.gov/othertools/onlinefPCA.html> was added to make voting easier for those without immediate access to a voting assistance office. The only down side to using this version is that individuals must pay their own postage. The printed, card-stock version can be sent postage-free. Toll-free voting assistance numbers are available in foreign countries at <http://www.fvap.ncr.gov/tollfree2000.html>

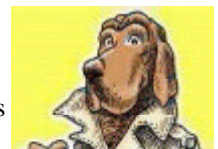

This page includes toll-free phone numbers to the Federal Voting Assistance Program from nearly 60 different countries. Department of Defense voters can also transfer to the DoD Voting Information Center, which, in turn, can transfer individuals to the office of their elected officials in the U.S. Congress, and their state governors and chief election officials.

Crime Watch recording provides information to housing residents

Presidio of Monterey family members have an established means to inform themselves of crimes occurring in various housing areas.

Crime Watch is the information link between the POM Police and the community. Crime Watch reports crimes that have occurred in our military community housing areas and is updated weekly. Special Alerts notify the community of crimes that are of an immediate concern.

Call 24-CRIME or 242-7463 to hear a brief recorded synopsis of incidents.

Thrift shop workers award nine scholarships

By Bob Britton

The Fort Ord Thrift Shop Scholarship committee awarded $7,000 in scholarships to family members during a ceremony at General Stilwell Community Center June 22. Recipients included recent high school graduates, college students and spouses.

Col. Daniel Devlin, commandant of the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center and commander of DLIFLC and the Presidio of Monterey, and his wife, Dee, hosted the ceremony and awarded the scholarship certificates. She is the chairperson of the scholarship committee.

"The ladies of the thrift shop donated $6,000 last year for scholarships," said Devlin. "The six-member scholarship committee received applications from all over and narrowed the finalists to the nine winners."

During the past 30 years, the thrift shop staff has raised more than $150,000 for scholarships and other donations to the American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, local schools and other Fort Ord activities. Most of the staff members are retired military spouses or widows.

Scholarship recipients included the following people:

❑ Cindi Epley, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Keith Barto, received a $1,250 scholarship. She graduated from Monterey High School this year and plans to attend George Washington University in Washington, D.C. this fall. Her sister, Rebecca, received a $750 scholarship. Rebecca is a communications major at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

❑ Ryan Parsons, son of Air Force Master Sgt. Michael Parsons, got a $1,000 stipend. Ryan, the salutatorian this year for Seaside High School's graduating class and baseball team captain, plans to major in aeronautical engineering this fall at St. Mary's College of California.

❑ Harold Lewis, spouse of Staff Sgt. Angela Lewis, received a $1,000 scholarship for his music education at Monterey Peninsula College. He earned a similar scholarship last year from the thrift shop.

❑ Guerin Austin, daughter of Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Charles Glover, earned a $750 award and a similar scholarship last year. Guerin currently is majoring in broadcast communications and public relations at Oklahoma City University.

❑ John Phelps, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Phelps, earned a $750 scholarship. His father is the Institute's staff judge advocate. The son is studying mechanical engineering at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff, Ariz.

❑ Richard Eramaa, the son of Command Sgt. Maj. Eramaa, received a $500 award. Richard, currently attending Hartnell College, plans to attend Chico State University this summer and major in psychology and criminal justice.

❑ Frederick Chang, a retired Navy Petty Officer 1st Class, earned a $500 award. The former electronic warfare technician is studying computer information management at Masters Institute in San Jose.

❑ Asuman Johnson, spouse of Master Sgt. Billy Johnson, received a $500 award this year and a similar award last year. She is pursuing a masters degree program in management information systems at Golden Gate University.

Some of the thrift shop volunteers at the awards ceremony included Evelyn Phillips, Chris Eplin, Carolyn Pryar and Dottie Darvey. The Fort Ord Thrift Shop, located on Light Fighter Drive near the entrance to the Ord Military Community, is open Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

how actions will occur. Union officials will be informed prior to any actions being taken.

If a function is contracted out, federal policy requires that affected displaced permanent employees be offered right-of-first refusal for job openings for which they are qualified with the contractor. Also, incentives are used to stimulate attrition if necessary. If any jobs are eliminated, employees on competitive career or career conditional appointments will be given priority rights to other vacant positions.

If employees are affected and not placed within the installation, they are given priority rights to other vacant positions in the Defense Department. Through the Priority Placement Program, the skills of displaced employees are matched with vacant positions at other DoD activities for which the employee is registered. The job match is accomplished through a computerized referral system. If the new job involves a move to another location, the government pays for the cost of the move. If the new job is at a lower grade level, the employee's grade or pay is saved to the maximum extent permitted by law. The DoD PPP is the most successful placement program in the federal service because it provides mandatory placement rights to other vacant positions within DoD.

This installation encourages input from the union in the cost study process. Also, there will be union representation involved in impact bargaining to include internal placement, retraining, outplacement efforts, and reduction in force procedures.

Focus is presently on the identification of requirements, organizational design, and costs of operation. We need to show that in-house performance of activities is the most cost-effective method of obtaining services that are available in the commercial market. Employees can actively support the development of the most efficient organization by identifying methods to improve work activities. All efforts are being made to minimize any reductions.

Local tryouts for Army Ten Miler team scheduled for Aug. 5 at Presidio Annex

Presidio of Monterey Annex: The annual Army Ten Miler, to be held Oct. 15, in Washington, D.C., will include a Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center Team.

This will be the third year that DLIFLC is represented at this Army event. Local tryouts for DLIFLC's 2000 running team will be held Aug. 5 beginning at 7:30 a.m. at the Presidio of Monterey Annex.

Twenty runners/volunteers are needed to contend for positions on the two 10-person teams. Results of this race/runoff will identify the best two teams consisting of the best five female runners and the best five male runners to be elected for the DLI Team. The runoff/tryouts starting point for DLI's Army Ten Miler teams will be in front of the POM Police Headquarters, Building 4468 (Nijmegen & Gigling Roads).

Directions:

The course route is five miles down and five miles back, as follows: Make a left on 7th Street/Continue down to Intergarrison Road/Right at Intergarrison Road and go until Intergarrison Road ends / Turn at the second right at the end of Intergarrison Road / Go around the buildings back up Intergarrison Road/Turn left again on 7th Street/ and right on Gigling Road to the start/finish point. All eligible runners must complete the entire course.

Eligibility:

- ☐ Be assigned to Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center and POM.
 - ☐ Be in the U.S. military.
 - ☐ If you are a student you must be able to get out of school for one to three days and still be here on Oct. 13-17.
 - ☐ Everyone on the team will be on TDY orders.
- For more information, contact Ms. Susan Meyer at 242-5421.

Presidio Police offer child protection tips to parents

The Presidio of Monterey Police offer the following suggestions to protect your children.

DO

- ☐ Have your child fingerprinted and keep the prints for identification purposes.
- ☐ Begin your child's dental care program at an early age for preventive care and because like fingerprints, all mouths are unique.
- ☐ Teach your child who a stranger is. Make sure your child knows not to get involved with a stranger in any way.
- ☐ Establish a secret code word with your child, and instruct him or her not to go with anyone who does not know the secret word.
- ☐ Teach your child to scream when approached by anyone who does not know the secret word.
- ☐ Know the route your child takes to and from school, and make sure he or she travels with a friend.
- ☐ Obtain references from babysitters.
- ☐ Notice when someone shows a great deal of interest in your child, and find out why.
- ☐ Teach your child their home phone number, and how to use the telephone, as well as pay phone at an early age.

- ☐ Hold your child's hand when in public places.
- ☐ Keep a recent photo (every three months) of your child on hand, and mark the back with the date and the child's height and weight.

DON'T

- ☐ Put your child's name on his clothes or books where it can be seen. A name tag puts an abductor on a first-name basis with your child.
- ☐ Allow small children to go to the restroom by themselves when in a restaurant or shopping mall.
- ☐ Let your child go into anyone's home without your permission.
- ☐ Pick up small children at the school parking lot. Meet them inside the school building.
- ☐ Let your child go to school without first noting his clothing. This could be valuable information if your child does not return home on time.
- ☐ Leave your child in the car, home, yard or store for even a minute. It takes less than a minute for someone to take your child.

Beware of bad credit fixes

You may have heard of credit repair companies, which offer to help improve or fix your credit history for a fee. Credit repair companies often claim they can "clean up" or "erase" a bad credit history and help you get credit. Before you pay for their services, which can range from $50 to more than $1,000, there are several points that you should consider.

First, under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, credit repair companies cannot do anything that you cannot do for yourself at little or no cost. You do not have to pay a credit repair company to learn what is in your file or to correct inaccurate or incomplete information." Get it in writing before the 'I Do'

Client asks: Before I married recently, I had a prenuptial agreement prepared by my lawyer. My wife-to-be was not happy about the whole thing, but I stood my ground and she finally signed. Under my attorney's advice I made her get her own attorney to explain the agreement to her, etc., before she signed. My question: how ironclad are these agreements?

My attorney claims they are very ironclad (especially since she had an attorney as well). Answer: A definite probably, assuming you didn't hand this prenuptial agreement to your fiancée en route to the ceremony, or mislead her about your assets, chances are it will stand up. Rules for prenuptial (or premarital) agreements vary by state. They generally follow guidelines in the Uniform Premarital Agreement Act. The website addressing legal information about divorce is <http://www.law.cornell.edu/topics/divorce.html>. Generally, for a prenuptial agreement to be binding, each partner must understand the contract and sign it voluntarily.

Both parties should consult their own legal counsel when discussing premarital agreements. Use LawStreet.com's Law Guide at <http://www.lawstreet.com/LawGuide> to search for the current law on premarital agreements in each state. Ultimately, the legal assistance office refers clients to private practitioners who specialize in the preparation of premarital agreements.

Retirement planning

If you're planning on retiring, know what kind of health care to expect when you're retired and perhaps not living close to a military installation. Have you and your spouse discussed the Survivor Benefit Plan? If you entered the service after Aug. 1, 1986, have you thought about which retired pay plan you'll choose when you reach the 15-year mark?

Start collecting the information you need to get ready to retire online. Visit the Army Retirement Services website at <http://www.odcsper.army.mil/retire/retire1.asp>, or call the Retirement Services Officer at (800) 213-4354.

Old VA insurance hoax revived

Veterans and their families are once again seeing notices that Congress has approved a "special dividend" worth hundreds of dollars to those who did or did not have government life insurance. They are told they can apply for the money in writing by sending personal information to a post office box that appears to be the Veterans Center in Philadelphia. This is a hoax.

Veterans Administration life insurance dividends are paid automatically and don't have to be applied for. The VA says this false rumor has reappeared periodically for the past 30 years.

Persons with questions should contact the Department of Veterans Administration, Insurance Center, P.O. Box 42954, Philadelphia, PA, 19101, or send an e-mail to mail to: vainsurance@vba.va.gov. Official information about this hoax can be found on website <http://www.insurance.va.gov/special/special.htm>. For further assistance, contact the legal assistance office at 242-5084.

Avoid a “quickie divorce”

By Jennifer Colarossi
Intern, Staff Judge Advocate

It all started with a bad haircut. Sgt. Lorraine Shire looked at her husband Dick and said, “What ape cut your hair, you look like a shaggy llama?” Dick, a sensitive man, felt rejected and cried. The couple sought counseling. However, Lorraine would not take back the critical remark because it was true. She said, “If you can’t take the truth, then that’s it.” Dick, equally hardheaded, agreed that they should separate if she wouldn’t take the comment back.

Lorraine, hotter than an overheated car, sought legal advice on how to obtain a divorce the easiest way in California. She wanted the simplest process and didn’t want to fill out endless forms. The answer was Summary Dissolution. Since Dick agreed not to contest the divorce, Lorraine and Dick would file a joint petition with both their signatures.

The biggest question was whether Lorraine and Dick qualified to use this process. To qualify they couldn’t have children (or any on the way) and their marriage could not exceed five years from the date they filed the petition.

Their debts could not exceed $5,000 (excluding debts for automobiles). The community property (property spouses own together) must be valued less than $25,000. Neither could Dick nor Lorraine own separate property valued over $25,000. Both Dick and Lorraine also would have to waive their rights to spousal support. Lorraine was relieved that all the qualifications were met.

Dick and Lorraine wanted to save the money spent on litigation and lawyer fees. They disclosed all their assets to each other. Lorraine filled out worksheets detailing the separate and community assets and drafted a property settlement for both of them to sign. After they filed the petition and the settlement papers with the court, all they had to do was wait six months and file for the judgment granting the dissolution of their marriage. “Wow! This was easy,”

Lorraine commented sipping lemonade on her mother’s veranda, “All I need to do now is wait, and soon I will be free from those hideous shaggy sideburns.”

Time passed. One day, out of the blue Dick appeared on Lorraine’s front porch. Surprisingly, his sideburns were evenly trimmed and from behind his back he pulled the liveliest, most colorful bunch of sweet pea blossoms. Dick’s puppy eyes and the sweet pea aroma brought back the reasons that Lorraine loved Dick. In fact, after they both apologized for their stubborn behavior and declared their existing love, they couldn’t remember what the problem was between them.

Lorraine and Dick learned through this process that Summary Dissolution was the quickest way to obtain a divorce in California. Needless to say, Dick filed a revocation form that nullified the pending dissolution. They realized many disputes may be resolved with kindness and humility. Dick now tries to keep his hair trimmed evenly, and Lorraine has learned to hold her tongue and look into Dick’s puppy eyes when Dick’s hair becomes llama-like.

The Staff Judge Legal Assistance Office provides advice on Summary Dissolutions and other divorce related matters. Appointments for consultation with an attorney may be made at Building 275, or by calling 242-5083 or 242-5084.

Personnel Center announces vacancy

A vacancy announcement has been issued by the West Civilian Personnel Operations Center to recruit candidates for a current permanent competitive service position as Secretary, GS-318-05.

This announcement has been established for individuals looking for their first federal job or current employees who hold other than permanent competitive service appointments.

Family members play an important role in the military community. Many spouses frequently work as secretaries on military installations.

If qualified, please apply.

It is open to any interested, qualified, citizen who would like to be considered for permanent employment at Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center and Presidio of Monterey.

If you know someone who might be interested in the position, let them know about the announcement.

For further information, contact Wendy Smith, Civilian Personnel Advisory Center, at 242-5106.

ACT: Oct. 2, 8 a.m.

MPC fall registration continues

Monterey Peninsula College Fall semester (Aug. 21 – Dec. 14) schedules are now available at the POM Education Center, Bldg. 630.

Dozens of independent study and on-line courses are especially user friendly for the POM community. Geology, astronomy and chemistry courses with labs are also offered on Saturdays specifically for the convenience of DLIFLC students.

Other independent study courses include Russian history, communism and international relations may meet area study requirements for baccalaureate students.

Students do not have to be in the Navy or Marines to earn nautical science credits for sailing and cruising on Monterey Bay.

Come by the Education Center to pick up the enrollment and tuition assistance forms. Do not delay in registering early, especially to make sure you get one of the limited seats available for the natural science classes.

AARTS transcripts “on-line”

Service members and veterans currently eligible for Army Automated Registry Transcript Service transcripts may soon be able to view and print personal copies of their transcripts from the web. Warrant officers will also be added to the database in the near future. AARTS will begin “re-vamping” its website to make it even more user-friendly and provide service members with more information for alternate sources and links for individuals not eligible for AARTS transcripts.

Check with the Army site at <http://voled.doded.mil/> for the most recent developments on this and the above mentioned services.

College credit by Exam

Even with no previous college work before coming to Presidio of Monterey, service members can earn college credit by free exams offered at every education center throughout the world.

There are almost a hundred other exam subjects available for your review, study and pretesting. Stop by the POM Education Center in Bldg. 630 to pick up a listing of available exams and a free study guide to go with each.

Testing is on Thursday afternoons at 4 p.m. by appointment.

Army promotion points by Internet

The Army Correspondence Course program offers 356 courses and 2,500 subcourses in a wide range of subjects which reach more people around the world than any other training program.

Enrollment forms and information about promotion points earned through ACCP are available on the Internet at <http://www.atsc.army.mil/accp/dlsd.htm>.

American Red Cross offers AFES

Since June 1999 all Red Cross messages for military personnel assigned to the POM, the POM Annex, Naval Postgraduate School, and Fleet Numerical Meteorological and Oceanographic Center are handled by the two AFES Centers mentioned above. When there is a family emergency, the service member's family is to contact their local American Red Cross Chapter.

They can find the telephone number listed under American Red Cross in their white pages of their phone book. The family should give the local chapter information regarding the family emergency, the person's name who is either deceased or ill or injured and the relationship of that person to the service member. A phone number for that person or a point of contact person, who knows of the situation, the service member's Social Security number, and military address need to be given to the chapter too.

The local chapter will verify the information with local authorities and will call the AFES Center. The AFES Center will then contact the service member's command here. If service members here need to contact the Red Cross, call the toll free number 1-877-272-7337 and be ready to provide the case number if they know it. If the service member's family resides in Monterey County and the service member is assigned somewhere else in the world, and there is a family emergency, the family should call 1-800-540-2000.

If your ad is dated (06-16), you must contact us before the Wednesday deadline to have it renewed.

Want to place an ad?

Explanation of classified ad policy

Military members, retirees and Department of Defense civilian employees, with valid identification cards, are authorized to place classified ads in the Community News.

To place an ad in the Community News, complete the form on the back page of the Community News and deliver it to the Public Affairs Office, Building 614, Room 142, Presidio of Monterey, 93944. Ads may also be sent via e-mail to the editor at cnews@pom-emh1.army.mil. Individuals should ensure to include all information requested on the form, including the category of the ad.

Daytime work telephone numbers are for use by Community News staff only; they will not be listed in ads. Individuals may place up to three ads per household, in different categories, per issue. Each ad should not exceed 35 words; each item for sale should be valued at least $10.

The Community News staff will make every effort to publish ads accurately, but we reserve the right to edit ads to meet readability, format and space requirements. Individuals should notify the editor of typographical errors, and they will be corrected as early as possible. Acceptable classified ads include items in the categories of Autos; Motorcycles; Trucks, Vans, Sport, RVs; Wanted; Sports Equipment; Entertainment, Music Items; Computers and Accessories; Lost and Found; Miscellaneous; Pets or Household Items. Items must be for one-time sale or for free—not for a profit-sharing venture of multiple items. Classified ads for businesses, rentals, free information, help for hire or tutoring, or illegal items are not authorized.

California firearms laws state that it is “unlawful for a person who is not a licensed firearms dealer to sell, loan or otherwise transfer a firearm to a non-licensed person unless the sale, loan, or transfer is completed through a licensed dealer or law enforcement agency.” Because of this statewide restriction, ads for guns or weapons are not authorized.

Each ad will be published in three consecutive issues unless it is renewed or cancelled. The date the ad was first published is printed in parentheses following each ad. Classified ads may be renewed or cancelled by phone; however, new ads, additions or major changes to ads must be done in writing before the Wednesday deadline for the next issue, generally a week and a half prior to publication.

For details, call Public Affairs at 242-5104.
